

Use this form to provide additional required information when opening a new legal entity brokerage account, including all Beneficial Owners and Control Persons associated with that legal entity, complete ownership structure, proof of legal entity existence, entity classification, expected activity, source of funds, and political exposure.

As a financial institution, in accordance with government regulations, Goldman Sachs is required to obtain, verify, and record information which identifies each person or legal entity that seeks to establish a financial services relationship with Goldman Sachs, such as name, address, government identification number and other information and documentation noted below. Goldman Sachs may also ask to see government-issued identifying documents or require copies of other documentation to be provided.

Please note that upon initial review of the information you provide, Goldman Sachs may require additional documentation and or clarification of information provided. Legal Entity accounts are brokerage accounts for a corporate entity including a corporation, partnership, general partnership, limited partnership, limited liability company, or other entity created by a filing with a secretary of state or similar office such as an irrevocable trust, including publicly-held companies and entities registered with the SEC such as broker-dealers and investment advisers.

New legal entity accounts will be restricted from all activities until Goldman Sachs obtains and verifies this information, and will be closed if Goldman Sachs cannot obtain and verify this information. Goldman Sachs is not responsible for any losses or damages (including, but not limited to, lost opportunities) that may result from a legal entity account being restricted or closed as a result of your failure to provide the requested information or Goldman Sachs's inability to verify such information.

Legal Evidence of Existence Documentation

Proof of legal entity existence is required for all legal entities. Trust documentation options are noted below. Other legal entity types may provide applicable documentation, such as Certificate of Formation, Articles of Incorporation, Partnership Agreement, Limited Liability Company Operating Agreement, etc. Providing the first page and signature pages of such documents is acceptable.

Note that additional documentation is required for most types of legal entities, details of which are in the Entity Classification and Ownership section of this form.

Note that this documentation will be reviewed solely to verify the legal existence of this entity. We are not responsible for management of the entity, and have no role with respect to administration or enforcement of covenants or restrictions on investments and/or transfer of funds for, or disbursement of funds from, the entity.

Trust Legal Evidence of Existence

New trust accounts are restricted until one of the following documents are received:

Trust Deed Certificate of Trust Declaration of Trust First page and signature page(s) of Executed Trust Agreement

Upload documentation to our advisor site as a PDF (Secure Upload page, after selecting the account and the Trust Evidence of Existence document type), which will automatically remove this restriction. Note that this documentation will be reviewed solely to verify the legal existence of this trust. We are not responsible for management of the trust, and have no role with respect to administration or enforcement of covenants or restrictions on investments and/or transfer of funds for, or disbursement of funds from, the trust.
